

IGSSS

Weekly

The World celebrates
International Day of Families
today. The theme this year is:
Men in Charge? Gender Equality and Children's Rights in Contemporary Families.

Sustainable Livelihood

Linking Salt Pan Workers to the Market

Salt being their sole source of livelihood, thousands of people living on the edge of the Rann and South Gujarat, work under extreme heat to produce it. They belong from Agariya community. ... \(Read more\)

Youth Development

A Fish Farm leading to Youth Development

Twenty seven year old Mayami was just about managing to keep his head above water with such meagre income. Mayami hails from Chingai village which is a small remote village, 65 km away from Ukhrul town. His family comprises of his wife and three children. ... \(Read more\)

Sustainable Livelihood

Better Irrigation Facilities change Farmer's Life

With the pond for irrigation and the training from the awareness camps, Sonua decided to cultivate two crops a year. All this helped him earn a gross income of Rs. 2190 per month. ... \(Read more\)

International Day of Families

Rethinking Fatherhood Models

Each generation moulds its cultural ideal of fathers according to its own time and conditions, and each deals with the inevitable gap between what LaRossa (1988) terms the 'culture' of fatherhood and the 'conduct' of fathers in families. ... \(Read more\)

IGSSS Weekly Vol - 3

Issue -20

May, 2015

Reach us at:

www.igsss.org

facebook.com/IGSSS

Life-Freedom-Dignity